OUR STORY
Fourth generation fine wine and spirits distributor John Hooper stepped over to the other side of the industry and is pouring his passion for grapes into a new venture called BNA Wine Group. WHAT'S NEW More

Daytime Emmy Nomination

Courtney

Some of you may have already heard via our personal Twitter or Facebook accounts that our very own Paul Klimson was nominated for a Daytime Emmy in Outstanding Achievement in Live and Direct to Tape Sound Mixing! It's a great day at Theory One Productions! Granted, it wouldn't be Paul's first big award if he were to win...I mean look at these beauties he's been bestowed by Late Night with Jimmy Fallon...

He's nominated for an event that started out as a huge pain in my side. Why is that, you may ask? Paul and I were out on a lovely date to some non-memorable movie in beautiful Secaucus, NJ one glorious Saturday afternoon (glorious, because we rarely have weekends together with Paul's travelling schedule). We're sitting there, starting to enjoy some popcorn and Milk Duds (his choice), when of course his phone has to go off. He suddenly realizes that he has forgotten a big conference call with Comedy Central he was to be a part of for this little Rally to Restore Sanity And/Or Fear that was to take place in DC with Jon Stewart and Steven Colbert (among others). Cue my eye rolling and general state of annoyance: "Who do these people think they are? Don't they know we're on a date? Don't they know we never see each other?" Alas, Paul gets up and leaves my side to take said call. I might be a little high maintenance sometimes, but at least I can own it...

WHO KNEW that a few months later it would result in Paul's first (and possibly only as he probably won't be working in soap operas or talk shows anytime in the near future) Daytime Emmy nod. Don't get me wrong - I'm sure there will be other
